OTIS WORLDWIDE CORPORATION
NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Unaudited)

Note 1: General

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of September 30, 2026 and for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 are unaudited, but in the opinion of management include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair statement of the results for the interim periods. The Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2025 was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") in the United States ("U.S."). The results reported in these Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements should not necessarily be taken as indicative of results that may be expected for the entire year. The financial information included herein should be read in conjunction with the Company's annual consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal year 2025 ("2025 Form 10-K" or "Form 10-K").

Unless the context otherwise requires, references to "Otis," "we," "us," "our" and "the Company" refer to Otis Worldwide Corporation and its subsidiaries.

There have been no changes to the Company's significant accounting policies described in the Company's 2025 Form 10-K that have a material impact on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and the related notes.

Use of Estimates. The preparation of these Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and accompanying notes in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates.

We assessed certain accounting matters that generally require consideration of forecasted financial information in the context of the information reasonably available to us and the unknown future impacts of macroeconomic developments, including geopolitical conflicts, inflationary pressures, higher interest rates, tighter credit conditions and changes in global trade policies including higher tariffs in the U.S. and other countries, as of September 30, 2026 and through the date of this report. The accounting matters assessed included, but were not limited to, our allowance for credit losses, the carrying value of our goodwill and other long-lived assets, financial assets and revenue recognition. While there was not a material impact to our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of September 30, 2026 and for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 resulting from our assessments of these matters, future assessment of our expectations of the magnitude and duration of these macroeconomic developments, as well as other factors, could result in material impacts to our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in future reporting periods.

New import tariffs implemented in 2025 and 2026 by the U.S. and other countries, as currently in effect, could have a material impact on our results in 2026 and future years. The impact of tariffs is dependent upon negotiations with customers and suppliers and other mitigation efforts and potential further changes in global trade policies, including higher tariffs in the U.S. or other countries.

We also assessed certain accounting matters as they relate to the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine and the conflicts in the Middle East, including, but not limited to, our allowance for credit losses, the carrying value of long-lived assets, revenue recognition and the classification of assets. There was not a material impact to our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of September 30, 2026 and for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 resulting from our assessment of these matters. We continue to assess the impact on our results of operations, financial position and overall performance as the situations develop and any broader implications they may have on the global economy.

German Tax Litigation. In August 2024, we received a favorable ruling regarding a tax litigation in Germany. The Company began receiving refunds starting in 2025 and the refund process will continue through 2026. As a result, our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 include an income tax receivable of approximately $7 million and $75 million, respectively, and an interest receivable of approximately $4 million and $65 million, respectively.

Pursuant to the Tax Matters Agreement ("TMA") with United Technologies Corporation ("UTC"), our former parent, subsequently renamed RTX Corporation ("RTX"), and based on the facts and contractual provisions, additional information received from RTX and indemnity payments during 2025, the Company estimated the amount payable to RTX as a result of the outcome of the German tax litigation to be $56 million as of December 31, 2025. Based on indemnity payments made to RTX and adjustments to the indemnity payable in the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company now estimates the remaining amount payable to RTX to be $55 million. The adjustments to the indemnity payable resulted in indemnification expense of $5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $4 million and $62 million for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2025, respectively. There was no indemnification expense in the quarter ended September 30, 2026. This indemnification expense is included in Other income (expense), net in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively. This estimate could further change due to the parties' continuing dispute concerning the scope of the final indemnity amount, which will be resolved pursuant to the procedures set forth in the TMA.

See Note 10, "Income Taxes" and Note 15, "Contingent Liabilities" for additional information.

Supplier Finance Programs. Certain Otis subsidiaries participate in supplier finance programs, under which we agree to pay third-party financial institutions the stated amounts of confirmed invoices from suppliers on the original due dates of the invoices, while the participating suppliers generally have the ability to sell, or otherwise pledge as collateral, their receivables from the Company to the participating financial institutions. The outstanding obligations confirmed by the Company as valid to the financial institutions under our supplier finance programs were $735 million and $831 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, including $89 million and $80 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, related to programs with payment terms of 240 days from the invoice date. These obligations are included in Accounts payable in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, and all activity related to the obligations is presented within operating activities in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Noncontrolling Interest Adjustment. In the quarter ended March 31, 2026, the Company recorded an out of period adjustment to correct an immaterial error within Equity, recognizing $114 million in Noncontrolling interest and Retained earnings (accumulated deficit) resulting from previous step acquisitions. This misstatement did not have an impact on previous results of operations or cash flows.

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions, except per share amounts; shares in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Net income attributable to common shareholders	$ 414	$ 374	$ 1,182	$ 1,010
Basic weighted average number of shares outstanding	381.0	391.0	384.0	393.7
Stock awards and equity units (share equivalent)	0.9	1.8	1.1	2.1
Diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding	381.9	392.8	385.1	395.8
Earnings Per Share of Common Stock:
Basic	$ 1.09	$ 0.96	$ 3.08	$ 2.57
Diluted	$ 1.08	$ 0.95	$ 3.07	$ 2.55

The computation of diluted earnings per share excludes the effect of the potential exercise of stock awards, including stock appreciation rights and stock options, when the average market price of Otis' common stock ("Common Stock") is lower than the exercise price of the related stock awards during the period because the effect would be anti-dilutive. In addition, the computation of diluted earnings per share excludes the effect of the potential exercise of stock awards when the awards' assumed proceeds exceed the average market price of the common shares during the period. Lastly, the computations of diluted earnings per share include outstanding awards granted prior to the separation and distribution ("Separation") of each of Otis and Carrier Global Corporation from UTC, our former parent, subsequently renamed RTX Corporation, and converted upon the Separation, in accordance with the Employee Matters Agreement, dated as of April 2, 2020, by and among UTC, Otis and Carrier Global Corporation. There were 2.8 million and 0.8 million of anti-dilutive stock awards excluded from the computation for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, compared to 0.8 million and 0.5 million for the same periods in 2025.

The impact of redeemable noncontrolling interest to Net income attributable to common shareholders was immaterial in the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025.

Note 3: Revenue Recognition

We account for revenue in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 606: Revenue from Contracts with Customers.

Contract Assets and Liabilities. Contract assets reflect revenue recognized in advance of customer billing. Contract liabilities are recognized when a customer pays consideration, or we have an unconditional right to receive consideration, in advance of the satisfaction of performance obligations under the contract. We receive payments from customers based on the terms established in our contracts, which are payments in advance of performing work, progress payments as we perform contract work over time, or in some cases, payments upon completion of work.

Total Contract assets and Contract liabilities as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 are as follows:

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Contract assets, current	$ 908	$ 699
Total contract assets	908	699
Contract liabilities, current	(2,979)	(2,611)
Contract liabilities, non-current (included within Other long-term liabilities)	(28)	(29)
Total contract liabilities	(3,007)	(2,640)
Net contract liabilities	$ (2,099)	$ (1,941)

Contract assets increased by $209 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, as a result of the progression and timing of billing on customer contracts. Contract liabilities increased by $367 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2026 primarily due to the timing of billings on customer contracts in excess of revenue earned.

In the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, we recognized revenue of approximately $1.9 billion related to contract liabilities as of January 1, 2026 and 2025.

Remaining Performance Obligations ("RPO"). RPO represents the aggregate amount of total contract transaction price that is unsatisfied or partially unsatisfied. As of September 30, 2026, our total RPO was approximately $19.6 billion. Of the total RPO as of September 30, 2026, we expect approximately 75% will be recognized as sales over the following 24 months.

Note 4: Inventories

Inventories consisted of the following as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Raw materials and work-in-process	$ 152	$ 139
Finished goods	537	474
Total	$ 689	$ 613

Raw materials, work-in-process and finished goods are net of valuation write-downs of $76 million and $84 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Note 5: Business Acquisitions, Dispositions, Goodwill and Intangible Assets

Business Acquisitions. Our acquisitions of businesses and intangible assets, net of cash, totaled $195 million and $92 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively, and were primarily in our Service segment. Transaction costs incurred were not considered significant.

In April 2026, we acquired the majority ownership of a French company, a provider of elevator maintenance, repair, modernization and digital services for $170 million funded by cash on hand and commercial paper borrowings. The entity is included in our Service segment. The acquisition supports growth in the Service segment and expands our maintenance portfolio. We recorded approximately $140 million of Goodwill, $64 million of Intangible assets and $33 million of Redeemable noncontrolling interest.

The preliminary purchase price allocation for the acquisition is not yet finalized. Accordingly, adjustments may be made to the values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed as additional information is obtained about the facts and circumstances that existed at the valuation date.

Goodwill. Changes in our Goodwill balance during the nine months ended September 30, 2026 were as follows:

(dollars in millions)	Balance as of December 31, 2025	Goodwill Resulting from Business Combinations	Foreign Currency Translation and Other	Balance as of September 30, 2026
New Equipment	$ 294	$ —	$ 2	$ 296
Service	1,401	142	7	1,550
Total	$ 1,695	$ 142	$ 9	$ 1,846

Intangible Assets. Intangible assets cost and accumulated amortization were $2,279 million and $1,900 million, respectively, as of September 30, 2026, and $2,220 million and $1,877 million, respectively, as of December 31, 2025.

Amortization of intangible assets for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026 was $14 million and $41 million, respectively, compared to $17 million and $47 million for the same periods in 2025. Excluding the impact of acquisitions and currency translation adjustments, there were no other significant changes in our Intangible assets during the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025.

Held For Sale Assets and Liabilities. Assets held for sale were $4 million and $5 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. These balances are included in Other current assets in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. There were no liabilities held for sale as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

During 2025, we sold one of our non-U.S. subsidiaries, primarily related to the Service segment. The Company recorded an impairment loss of $10 million related to the sale in Other income (expense), net in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations in the nine months ended September 30, 2025.

Note 6: Borrowings and Lines of Credit

Short-term borrowings consisted of the following:

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Commercial paper	**$ —	$ —
Other borrowings	42	215
Total short-term borrowings	$ 42	$ 215

Commercial Paper and Other Borrowings. As of September 30, 2026, there were no borrowings outstanding under the Company's $1.5 billion commercial paper programs. We use our commercial paper borrowings for general corporate purposes including to finance acquisitions, pay dividends, repurchase shares and for debt refinancing. The need for commercial paper borrowings may arise if the use of domestic cash for general corporate purposes exceeds the sum of domestic cash generation and foreign cash repatriated to the U.S. Other borrowings primarily consisted of borrowings for the purchase of the outstanding shares of Otis Electric Elevator Company Limited from the noncontrolling shareholder in 2025, which have been substantially repaid as of September 30, 2026.

Long-term debt. As of September 30, 2026, we had a revolving credit agreement with various banks providing for a $1.5 billion unsecured, unsubordinated five-year revolving credit facility, maturing August 8, 2030. As of September 30, 2026, there were no borrowings under the revolving credit agreement. The undrawn portion of the revolving credit agreement serves as a backstop for the issuance of commercial paper.

On March 16, 2026, the Company repaid the Japanese Yen denominated 0.370% notes due in 2026, upon maturity, using cash on hand.

On May 7, 2026, we issued $700 million unsecured, unsubordinated three-year notes due May 7, 2029 with an interest rate of 4.488%. A majority of the proceeds will be used to fund the repayment at maturity of the Euro denominated 0.318% notes due December 15, 2026. The remainder of the proceeds were used to fund the repayment of certain of our commercial paper borrowings and for other general corporate purposes.

As of September 30, 2026, the Company is in compliance with all covenants in the revolving credit agreement and the indentures governing all outstanding long-term debt. Long-term debt, including the current portion, consisted of the following:

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
0.370% notes due 2026 (¥21.5 billion principal value)	$ —	$ 137

Less: current portion	1,182	841
Long-term debt, net of current portion	$ 7,051	$ 6,900

We may redeem any series of notes at our option pursuant to certain terms.

Debt discounts and debt issuance costs are presented as a reduction of debt on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and are amortized as a component of interest expense over the term of the related debt using the effective interest method. The Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 reflect the following:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Debt discounts and issuance costs amortization	$ 3	$ 3	$ 8	$ 8
Total interest expense on external debt	65	53	185	160

The unamortized debt issuance costs as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 were $38 million and $41 million, respectively.

The weighted average maturity of our long-term debt as of September 30, 2026 is approximately 5.8 years. The weighted average interest expense rate on our borrowings outstanding as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 was as follows:

	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Short-term commercial paper	**—%	—%
Total long-term debt	3.2%	3.0%

The weighted average interest expense rate on our borrowings during the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 was as follows:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Short-term commercial paper	4.1%	3.6%	3.5%	3.8%
Total long-term debt	3.1%	2.9%	3.1%	2.8%

Note 7: Employee Benefit Plans

Pension and Postretirement Plans. The Company sponsors both funded and unfunded domestic and foreign defined benefit pension and other postretirement benefit plans, and defined contribution plans. Contributions to our plans were as follows:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Defined benefit plans	$ 10	$ 9	$ 31	$ 36
Defined contribution plans	18	18	59	56
Multi-employer pension and postretirement plans	42	40	125	121

The following table illustrates the components of net periodic benefit cost for the Company's defined benefit pension plans:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Service cost	$ 9	$ 8	$ 27	$ 25
Interest cost	8	8	27	24
Expected return on plan assets	(9)	(9)	(27)	(26)
Recognized actuarial net loss	—	1	1	2
Net settlement and curtailment (gain) loss	—	4	—	4
Total net periodic benefit cost	$ 8	$ 12	$ 28	$ 29

Postretirement Benefit Plans. The Company sponsors postretirement benefit plans that provide health benefits to eligible retirees. The postretirement plans are unfunded. The net periodic benefit cost was less than $1 million for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025.

Stock-based Compensation. The Company adopted the 2020 Long-Term Incentive Plan (the "Plan") effective April 3, 2020. As of September 30, 2026, approximately 16 million shares remain available for awards under the Plan.

The Company measures the cost of all share-based awards, including stock options, at fair value on the grant date and recognizes this cost in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations over the award's applicable vesting period. A forfeiture rate assumption is applied on grant date to adjust the expense recognition for awards that are not expected to vest.

Stock-based compensation expense and the resulting tax benefits were as follows:

(dollars in millions)	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Stock-based compensation expense (Share Based)	$ 18	$ 19	$ 57	$ 63
Less: future tax benefit	(1)	(2)	(5)	(6)
Stock-based compensation expense, net of tax	$ 17	$ 17	$ 52	$ 57

As of September 30, 2026, following our annual equity award grant issuance on February 3, 2026, there was approximately $93 million of total unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested equity awards granted under the Plan. This cost is expected to be recognized ratably over a weighted-average period of 1.6 years.

Note 8: Stock

Preferred Stock. There are 125 million shares of $0.01 par value Preferred Stock authorized, of which none were issued as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Common Stock. There are 2.0 billion shares of $0.01 par value Common Stock authorized. As of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, 439.9 million and 439.4 million shares of Common Stock were issued, respectively, which includes 59.2 million and 49.6 million shares of treasury stock, respectively.

Treasury Stock. As of September 30, 2026, the Company was authorized by the Board of Directors of Otis to purchase up to $2.0 billion of Common Stock under a share repurchase program, of which $500 million was remaining at such time.

The Company did not repurchase any shares during the quarter ended September 30, 2026, compared to 2.8 million shares for $247 million in the same period of 2025. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company repurchased 9.6 million shares for $800 million, compared to 8.6 million shares for $800 million in the same period of 2025. Share repurchases in excess of issuances are subject to a 1% excise tax, which is included as part of the cost basis of the shares acquired in Treasury Stock on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, as well as within financing activities in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows when paid.

The Company's share repurchase program does not obligate it to acquire any specific number of shares. Under this program, shares may be purchased in the open market, in privately negotiated transactions, under accelerated share repurchase programs or under plans complying with Rules 10b5-1 and 10b-18 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act").

Note 9: Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Amounts reclassified that relate to defined benefit pension and postretirement plans include amortization of prior service costs and actuarial net losses recognized during each period presented. These costs are recorded as components of net periodic pension cost for each period presented. See Note 7, "Employee Benefit Plans" for additional information.

Note 10: Income Taxes

The decrease in the effective tax rate for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to the same periods in 2025, is primarily due to a reduction in the current tax liability as a result of filing Non-US income tax returns. In addition, the decrease in the effective tax rate for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, is due to the reduction in a deferred tax liability related to the mitigation of future repatriation costs and the absence of the impact of the increase in our estimated nondeductible TMA indemnity obligation payable to RTX.

Otis conducts business globally and, as a result, Otis or one or more of its subsidiaries files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and various state and foreign jurisdictions. In the ordinary course of business, Otis could be subject to examination by taxing authorities throughout the world, including such major jurisdictions as Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, France, Germany, Hong Kong, India, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Netherlands, Portugal, South Korea, Spain, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the U.S. With a few exceptions, Otis is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local, or non-U.S. income tax examinations for years before 2016.

A subsidiary of Otis lost a tax litigation case in Belgium in 2023 and decided not to appeal. Otis may receive the assessment for tax and interest within the next 12 months. The associated tax and interest have been fully reserved.

See Note 15, "Contingent Liabilities" for discussion regarding the German tax litigation.

Note 11: Restructuring and Transformation Costs

We initiate restructuring actions to keep our cost structure competitive. Charges generally arise from severance related to workforce reductions, and to a lesser degree, facility exit and lease termination costs associated with the consolidation of office and manufacturing operations. Due to the size, nature and frequency of these discrete actions, they are fundamentally different from the Company's ongoing productivity initiatives.

During the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, we recorded restructuring costs for new and ongoing restructuring actions, including UpLift actions, as follows:

	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026			Quarter Ended September 30, 2025
(dollars in millions)	UpLift	Other	Total	UpLift	Other	Total
Cost of products and services sold	$ —	$ 2	$ 2	$ 6	$ 5	$ 11
Selling, general and administrative	—	3	3	21	1	22
Total	$ —	$ 5	$ 5	$ 27	$ 6	$ 33

	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026			Nine Months Ended September 30, 2025
(dollars in millions)	UpLift	Other	Total	UpLift	Other	Total
Cost of products and services sold	$ —	$ 8	$ 8	$ 13	$ 26	$ 39
Selling, general and administrative	—	15	15	59	15	74
Total	$ —	$ 23	$ 23	$ 72	$ 41	$ 113

Restructuring costs incurred and expected, unless otherwise indicated, are related approximately 30% to New Equipment and 70% to Service.

UpLift Restructuring Actions and Transformation Costs. In 2023, we announced UpLift to transform our operating model. UpLift includes, among other aspects, the standardization of our processes and improvement of our supply chain procurement, as well as organizational changes which result in restructuring actions.

UpLift restructuring actions were approved in the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023. These costs are primarily severance related costs. These actions initiated during 2025, 2024 and 2023 were substantially completed as of December 31, 2025. Expected total costs and remaining costs to incur for the actions initiated are approximately $150 million and $18 million, respectively. Following completion of the program, the Company does not expect to incur restructuring or transformation costs of a similar nature. Ongoing costs related to continuous improvement initiatives are expected to be consistent with historical operating expenses.

In the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2025, we incurred $10 million and $51 million, respectively, of incremental, non-restructuring costs associated with transforming our operating model as a part of UpLift ("UpLift transformation costs"), which are recorded in Other income (expense), net in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The UpLift transformation costs are primarily for consultants, third-party service providers and personnel focused on designing and implementing a centralized service delivery model that supports our new organizational structure, including the standardization of our supply chain and digital technology procurement.

Other Restructuring Actions. The Other restructuring expenses incurred during the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, were primarily the result of restructuring programs initiated during 2026 and 2025 related to severance and facility exit costs. We are targeting to complete in 2026 the majority of the remaining restructuring actions initiated in the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and the full year 2025, with certain utilization beyond 2026 due to contractual obligations or legal requirements in the applicable jurisdictions. Expected total costs and remaining costs to incur for the other restructuring actions initiated are $81 million and $22 million, respectively.

Reorganization of Operations in China

In January 2025, we announced the reorganization of our operations in China. Among other aspects, this reorganization resulted in restructuring actions of approximately $30 million. These actions included severance related costs, and these actions were substantially completed as of December 31, 2025. Amounts related to the reorganization of operations in China are included within Other restructuring.

Restructuring Accruals. The following table summarizes the accrual balance and utilization for restructuring actions, which are primarily for severance costs:

(dollars in millions)	UpLift Actions	Other Actions	Total Restructuring Actions
Restructuring accruals as of December 31, 2025	$ 50	$ 24	$ 74
Net restructuring costs	—	23	23
Utilization, foreign exchange and other costs	(27)	(29)	(56)
Restructuring accruals as of September 30, 2026	$ 23	$ 18	$ 41

Note 12: Financial Instruments

We enter into derivative instruments primarily for risk management purposes, including derivatives designated as hedging instruments under ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging. We operate internationally and, in the normal course of business, are exposed to fluctuations in interest rates, commodity prices and foreign exchange rates. These fluctuations can increase the costs of financing, investing in and operating the business. We may use derivative instruments, including swaps, forward contracts and options, to manage certain foreign currency, commodity price and interest rate exposures.

The four-quarter average of the notional amount of foreign exchange contracts hedging foreign currency transactions was approximately $5.6 billion as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025. The four-quarter average of the notional amount of contracts hedging commodity purchases was $12 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

The following table summarizes the fair value and presentation on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets for derivative instruments as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

(dollars in millions)	Balance Sheet Classification	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Derivatives designated as Cash flow hedging instruments:

Foreign exchange contracts	Accrued liabilities	$ (21)	$ (25)
Foreign exchange contracts	Other long-term liabilities	(2)	(2)
	Total liability derivatives	$ (23)	$ (27)

Derivatives designated as Cash flow hedging instruments. The amount of gain or (loss) attributable to foreign exchange and commodity contract activity reclassified from Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 was immaterial, and is presented in Note 9, "Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)".

The pre-tax effect of cash flow hedging relationships on Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 are presented in the table below:

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Gain (loss) recorded in Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss)	$ 11	$ 1

The Company utilizes the critical terms match method in assessing firm commitment derivatives and regression testing in assessing commodity derivatives for hedge effectiveness. Accordingly, the hedged items and derivatives designated as hedging instruments are highly effective.

Assuming current market conditions continue, pre-tax gains of $7 million are expected to be reclassified from Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) into Cost of products sold to reflect the fixed prices obtained from foreign exchange and commodity hedging within the next 12 months. All derivative contracts accounted for as cash flow hedges as of September 30, 2026 will mature by December 2031.

Net Investment Hedges. We may use non-derivative instruments (foreign currency denominated borrowings) and derivative instruments (foreign exchange forward contracts) to hedge portions of the Company's investments in foreign subsidiaries and manage foreign exchange risk. For instruments that are designated and qualify as a hedge of net investment in foreign operations and that meet the effectiveness requirements, the net gains or losses attributable to changes in spot exchange rates are recorded in foreign currency translation within Other comprehensive income (loss) on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income, and will remain in Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) until the hedged investment is sold or substantially liquidated. The remainder of the change in value of such instruments is recorded in earnings, including to the extent foreign currency denominated borrowings are not designated in, or are de-designated from, a net investment hedge relationship.

Our use of derivative instruments designated as hedges of the Company's net investment in foreign subsidiaries can vary depending on the Company's desired foreign exchange risk coverage.

As of September 30, 2026, we have derivative instruments that qualify as net investment hedges against our investments in certain European businesses (notional amount of €130 million) and Asian businesses (notional amount of HK$2.2 billion and ¥16 billion). The net investment hedges are deemed to be effective. The maturity dates of the current derivative instruments designated in net investment hedges range from 2026 to 2028.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we de-designated derivative and non-derivative instruments that qualified as net investment hedges in certain European and Asian businesses with notional amounts of €169 million and ¥21.5 billion, respectively. These de-designated instruments were deemed to be effective until de-designation.

The following table summarizes the amounts of gains (losses) recognized in other comprehensive income (loss) related to non-derivative and derivative instruments designated as net investment hedges:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Foreign currency denominated long-term debt	$ —	$ 3	$ 2	$ (7)
Foreign currency forward contracts	4	(1)	13	(7)
Total	$ 4	$ 2	$ 15	$ (14)

Derivatives not designated as Cash flow hedging instruments. The net effect of derivatives not designated as Cash flow hedging instruments within Other income (expense), net, on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations was as follows:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Foreign exchange contracts	$ —	$ 2	$ 12	$ 18

The effects of gains (losses) from derivatives not designated as Cash flow hedge instruments within Cost of products sold on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations were as follows:

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Commodity and foreign exchange contracts	$ 2	$ 1	$ 10	$ 3

Note 13: Fair Value Measurements

Valuation Techniques. Our marketable securities include investments that are traded in active markets, either domestically or internationally, and are measured at fair value using closing stock prices from active markets. The fair value gains or losses related to our marketable securities are recorded through net income. Our derivative assets and liabilities include foreign exchange and commodity contracts that are measured at fair value using internal and third party models based on observable market inputs such as forward rates, interest rates, our own credit risk and our counterparties' credit risks.

As of September 30, 2026, there has not been any significant impact to the fair value of our derivative liabilities due to our own credit risk. Similarly, there has not been any significant adverse impact to our derivative assets based on our evaluation of our counterparties' credit risks.

Due to their short-term nature, the carrying value approximated fair value for the current portion of the Company's financial instruments not carried at fair value. The fair value of receivables, including customer financing notes receivable, net, that were issued long-term are based on the discounted values of their related cash flows at interest rates reflecting the attributes of the counterparties, including geographic location. Customer-specific risk, including credit risk, is already considered in the carrying value of those receivables. Our long-term debt, as described in Note 6, "Borrowings and Lines of Credit", is measured at fair value using closing bond prices from active markets.

Recurring Fair Value Measurements. In accordance with the provisions of ASC 820: Fair Value Measurements, the following tables provide the valuation hierarchy classification of assets and liabilities that are carried at fair value and measured on a recurring and non-recurring basis in our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

	September 30, 2026
(dollars in millions)	Total	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3

Derivative assets	20	—	20	—
Derivative liabilities	(32)	—	(32)	—

In addition to the table above, due to the short-term nature, Cash and cash equivalents carrying amount approximates fair value and is classified as Level 1.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments. The following table provides carrying amounts and fair values of financial instruments that are not carried at fair value as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

Note 14: Guarantees

The Company provides service and warranty on its products beyond normal service and warranty policies. The carrying amount of service and product guarantees were $12 million and $10 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

The Company provides certain financial guarantees to third parties. As of September 30, 2026, Otis has stand-by letters of credit with maximum potential payment totaling $157 million. We accrue costs associated with guarantees when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. The most likely cost to be incurred is accrued based on an evaluation of currently available facts, and where no amount within a range of estimates is more likely, the minimum is accrued. In accordance with ASC Topic 460: Guarantees, we record these liabilities at fair value. As of September 30, 2026, Otis has determined there are no estimated costs probable under these guarantees.

Note 15: Contingent Liabilities

Except as otherwise noted, while we are unable to predict the final outcome, based on information currently available, we do not believe that resolution of any of the following matters will have a material adverse effect upon our competitive position, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. In addition to the specific amounts noted below, where we have recorded loss contingency accruals for the below and other matters, the amounts in aggregate are not material. Legal costs generally are expensed when incurred.

Legal Proceedings.

German Tax Litigation

In the third quarter of 2024, Otis prevailed in a German tax litigation case stemming from the 1998 reorganization of the Company's operations in Germany. As a result of winning the case, the Company expects to receive total refunds of prepaid tax, prepaid interest, overpayment interest, and court fees of approximately €326 million net of tax (approximately $371 million) as of September 30, 2026. The Company began receiving refunds starting in 2025 and the refund process will continue through 2026.

The recoveries related to this matter are allocated between RTX and the Company pursuant to the terms of the TMA with our former parent, UTC, by way of indemnification payments. The Company has established an indemnity payable to RTX, which is intended to cover RTX's tax and interest payable to the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS"). The Company and RTX disagree about both the scope of the indemnity payable to RTX and the Company's liability for interest accruing on amounts already paid to RTX.

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Indemnity Payable (in Accrued liabilities)	$ 55	$ 56

This estimate could further change due to the parties' continuing dispute concerning the scope of the final indemnity amount, which will be resolved pursuant to the procedures set forth in the TMA.

See Note 1, "General" for additional information on the impacts of the TMA activity to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of and for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026.

Asbestos Matters

We have been named as defendants in lawsuits alleging personal injury as a result of exposure to asbestos. While we have never manufactured any asbestos-containing component parts, and no longer incorporate asbestos in any current products, certain of our historical products have contained components manufactured by third parties incorporating asbestos. A substantial majority of these asbestos-related claims have been dismissed without payment or were covered in full or in part by insurance or other forms of indemnity. Additional cases were litigated and settled without any insurance reimbursement. The amounts involved in asbestos-related claims were not material individually or in the aggregate as of and for the periods ended September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

The estimated range of total liabilities to resolve all pending and unasserted potential future asbestos claims through 2059 is approximately $11 million to $31 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025. Since no amount within the range of estimates is more likely to occur than any other, we have recorded the minimum amount of $11 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, which is principally recorded in Other long-term liabilities on our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Amounts are on a pre-tax basis, not discounted, and exclude the Company's legal fees to defend the asbestos claims (which will continue to be expensed as they are incurred). In addition, the Company has an insurance recovery receivable for probable asbestos-related recoveries of approximately $3 million as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, which is principally included in Other assets on our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Other. We have commitments and contingent liabilities related to legal proceedings, self-insurance programs and matters arising out of the normal course of business. We accrue contingencies based on a range of possible outcomes. If no amount within this range is a better estimate than any other, we accrue the minimum amount. While it is not possible to determine the ultimate disposition of each of these claims and whether they will be resolved consistent with our beliefs, we expect that the outcome of such claims, individually or in the aggregate, will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows or results of operations.

In certain European countries, claims for overcharges on elevators and escalators related to civil cartel cases have been made, which we have accrued for based on our evaluation of the claims. While it is not possible to determine the ultimate disposition of each of these claims and whether they will be resolved consistent with our beliefs, historical settlement experiences of these claims have not been material to the business, financial condition, cash flows or results of operations. However, the future outcome of these cases cannot be determined.

In the ordinary course of business, the Company is also routinely a defendant in, party to or otherwise subject to many pending and threatened legal actions, claims, disputes and proceedings. These matters are often based on alleged violations of contract, product liability, warranty, regulatory, environmental, health and safety, employment, intellectual property, tax and other laws. In some of these proceedings, claims for substantial monetary damages are asserted against the Company and its subsidiaries and could result in fines, penalties, compensatory or treble damages or non-monetary relief. We do not believe that these matters will have a material adverse effect upon our competitive position, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition.

Refer to Note 16, "Segment Financial Data" for information about litigation-related settlement costs recognized in the nine months ended September 30, 2025 for certain legal matters that are outside of the ordinary course of business.

Note 16: Segment Financial Data

Our operations are classified into two operating segments: New Equipment and Service. Through the New Equipment segment, we design, manufacture, sell and install a wide range of passenger and freight elevators as well as escalators and moving walkways to customers in the residential, commercial and infrastructure projects. The Service segment provides maintenance and repair services for both our products and those of other manufacturers, and provides modernization services to upgrade elevators and escalators. The operating segments are generally based on the management structure of the Company, as well as how management allocates resources, assesses performance and makes strategic and operational decisions.

Segment Information. Otis discloses segment operating profit as its measure of segment performance, reconciled to Net income before income taxes. Segment operating profit excludes certain expenses and income that are not allocated to segments (as described below in "Corporate and Unallocated").

Otis' Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") is the Company's Chief Executive Officer. The CODM assesses the performance of each operating segment and allocates resources to those segments based on net sales and segment operating profit. The CODM compares segment operating profit results to prior periods and forecasted amounts to assess performance and to make decisions regarding the allocation of capital and other investments. Discrete asset information for each segment is not presented to, or reviewed by, the CODM.

Corporate and Unallocated includes adjustments related to the Separation, litigation-related settlement costs, impairment loss related to net assets held for sale, restructuring costs, and UpLift transformation costs.

Separation-related adjustments represent net adjustments of amounts due to and from RTX in accordance with the TMA, including amounts due to RTX related to a favorable ruling received in August 2024 regarding the German tax litigation. These adjustments are recorded in Other income (expense), net in our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations during the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively. See Note 10, "Income Taxes" and Note 15, "Contingent Liabilities" for additional information about the German tax litigation.

Litigation-related settlement costs in the nine months ended September 30, 2025 represent the aggregate amount of settlement costs and increase in loss contingency accruals, excluding legal costs, for certain legal matters that are outside of the ordinary course of business due to the size, complexity and/or unique facts of these matters.

Impairment loss related to net assets held for sale is recorded in Other income (expense), net in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations in the nine months ended September 30, 2025. See Note 5, "Business Acquisitions, Dispositions, Goodwill and Intangible Assets" for additional information about the held for sale assets and liabilities.

Refer to Note 11, "Restructuring and Transformation Costs" for more information about restructuring and UpLift transformation costs.

Note 17: Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2025, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2025-05, Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses for Accounts Receivable and Contract Assets. The amendments in this update provide a practical expedient when developing reasonable and supportable forecasts as part of estimating expected credit losses, allowing entities to assume that current conditions as of the balance sheet date do not change for the remaining life of the asset. The amendments in ASU 2025-05 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2025, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. We adopted this ASU on January 1, 2026 and elected to utilize the practical expedient. The adoption of the ASU and the election of the practical expedient did not have a material impact on our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Income Statement—Reporting Comprehensive Income—Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses. The amendments in this update require disclosure, in the notes to financial statements, on disaggregated information about specific categories underlying certain income statement expense line items that are considered relevant, including the purchase of inventory, employee compensation, depreciation, and intangible asset amortization. The amendments in ASU 2024-03 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026. Early adoption is permitted. Adoption of this ASU will result in additional disclosure, but will not impact our condensed consolidated financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

In May 2025, the FASB issued ASU 2025-03, Business Combinations (Topic 805) and Consolidation (Topic 810): Determining the Accounting Acquirer in the Acquisition of a Variable Interest Entity. The amendments in this update require an entity involved in an acquisition transaction effected primarily by exchanging equity interests when the legal acquiree is a VIE that meets the definition of a business to consider the factors in the ASU to determine which entity is the accounting acquirer. The amendments in ASU 2025-03 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of this standard, however, we do not expect it to have a material impact on our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

In September 2025, the FASB issued ASU 2025-06, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other—Internal-Use Software (Subtopic 350-40): Targeted Improvements to the Accounting for Internal-Use Software. The amendments in this update remove all references to prescriptive and sequential software development stages (referred to as "project stages") throughout Subtopic 350-40. The amendments in this update specify that the disclosures in Subtopic 360-10, Property, Plant, and Equipment—Overall, are required for all capitalized internal-use software costs, regardless of how those costs are presented in the financial statements. Additionally, the amendments clarify that the intangibles disclosures in paragraphs 350-30-50-1 through 50-3 are not required for capitalized internal-use software costs. The amendments in ASU 2025-06 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of this standard.

In September 2025, the FASB issued ASU 2025-07, Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815) and Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606): Derivatives Scope Refinements and Scope Clarification for Share-Based Noncash Consideration from a Customer in a Revenue Contract. The amendments in this update exclude from derivative accounting nonexchange-traded contracts with underlyings that are based on operations or activities specific to one of the parties to the contract. The amendments in ASU 2025-07 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of this standard.

In November 2025, the FASB issued ASU 2025-09, Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Hedge Accounting Improvements. Consistent with the original objective of ASU 2017-12, the objective of this update is to more closely align hedge accounting with the economics of an entity's risk management activities and better reflect those strategies in financial reporting by enabling entities to achieve and maintain hedge accounting for highly effective economic hedges of forecasted transactions. The amendments in ASU 2025-09 apply to any entity that elects to apply hedge accounting in accordance with Topic 815 and are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of this standard.

In May 2026, the FASB issued ASU 2026-02, Environmental Credits and Environmental Credit Obligations (Topic 818). The amendments in this update are expected to provide investors with additional decision-useful information by improving the (1) understandability of financial accounting and reporting information about environmental credits and environmental credit obligations associated with regulatory compliance programs and (2) comparability of that information by reducing diversity in practice. The amendments in ASU 2026-02 are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. Early adoption is permitted as of the beginning of an annual reporting period. We are currently evaluating the impact of this standard.

Other new accounting pronouncements issued but not effective until after September 30, 2026 are not expected to have a material impact on our financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

With respect to the unaudited condensed consolidated financial information of Otis Worldwide Corporation for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP ("PricewaterhouseCoopers") reported that it has applied limited procedures in accordance with professional standards for a review of such information. However, its report dated October 29, 2026, appearing below, states that the firm did not audit and does not express an opinion on that unaudited condensed consolidated financial information. PricewaterhouseCoopers has not carried out any significant or additional review procedures beyond those that would have been necessary if their report had not been included. Accordingly, the degree of reliance on its report on such information should be restricted in light of the limited nature of the review procedures applied. PricewaterhouseCoopers is not subject to the liability provisions of Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("the Act") for its report on the unaudited condensed consolidated financial information because that report is not a "report" or a "part" of a registration statement prepared or certified by PricewaterhouseCoopers within the meaning of Sections 7 and 11 of the Act.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Otis Worldwide Corporation

Results of Review of Interim Financial Information

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet of Otis Worldwide Corporation and its subsidiaries (the "Company") as of September 30, 2026, and the related condensed consolidated statements of operations, of comprehensive income, and of changes in equity for the three-month and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 and the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the "interim financial information"). Based on our reviews, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying interim financial information for it to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We have previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated balance sheet of the Company as of December 31, 2025, and the related consolidated statements of operations, of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein), and in our report dated February 5, 2026, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2025, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

Basis for Review Results

This interim financial information is the responsibility of the Company’s management. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB. We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Business Summary

We are the world's leading elevator and escalator manufacturing, installation, service and modernization company. Our Company is organized into two segments, New Equipment and Service. Through our New Equipment segment, we design, manufacture, sell and install a wide range of passenger and freight elevators, as well as escalators and moving walkways for residential and commercial buildings and infrastructure projects. Our New Equipment customers include real-estate and building developers and general contractors who develop and/or design buildings for residential, commercial, retail or mixed-use activity. We sell our New Equipment directly to customers, as well as through agents and distributors.

Through our Service segment, we perform maintenance and repair services for both our own products and those of other manufacturers and provide modernization services to upgrade elevators and escalators. Maintenance services include inspections to ensure code compliance, preventive maintenance offerings and other customized maintenance offerings tailored to meet customer needs, as well as repair services to address equipment and component wear and tear and breakdowns. Modernization services enhance equipment operation and improve building functionality. Modernization offerings can range from relatively simple upgrades of interior finishes and aesthetics to complex upgrades of larger components and sub-systems, including the machine, ropes or belts, safety systems and the entire car or escalator. Our typical Service customers include building owners, facility managers, housing associations and government agencies that operate buildings where elevators and escalators are installed.

We serve our customers through a global network of employees. These include sales personnel, field technicians with separate skills in performing installation and service, as well as engineers driving our continued product development and innovation. We function under a centralized operating model whereby we pursue a global strategy set around New Equipment and Service because we seek to grow our maintenance portfolio, in part, through the conversion of new elevator and escalator installations into service contracts. Accordingly, we benefit from an integrated global strategy, which sets priorities and establishes accountability across the full product lifecycle.

The current status of significant factors affecting our business environment in 2026 is discussed below. For additional discussion, refer to the "Business Overview" section in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in our 2025 Form 10-K.

UpLift

Announced in July 2023, UpLift is a program to transform our operating model. As of December 31, 2025, total restructuring and other incremental costs to complete the transformation ("UpLift transformation costs") were approximately $300 million, including trailing restructuring costs expected in 2026 of $18 million. The Company generated run-rate savings of approximately $200 million.

For further details, refer to the discussion on restructuring costs in the "Results of Operations," as well as Note 11 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

German Tax Litigation

In August 2024, we received a favorable ruling regarding a German tax litigation. Pursuant to the Tax Matters Agreement ("TMA") with United Technologies Corporation ("UTC"), our former parent, subsequently renamed RTX Corporation ("RTX"), and based on the facts and contractual provisions, additional information received from RTX and indemnity payments during 2025, the Company estimated the amount payable to RTX as a result of the outcome of the German tax litigation to be $56 million as of December 31, 2025. Based on indemnity payments made to RTX and adjustments to the indemnity payable in the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company now estimates the remaining amount payable to RTX to be $55 million. The adjustments to the indemnity payable resulted in indemnification expense of $5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to $4 million and $62 million for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2025, respectively. There was no indemnification expense in the quarter ended September 30, 2026. This indemnification expense is included in Other income (expense), net in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025. This estimate could further change due to the parties' continuing dispute concerning the scope of the final indemnity amount, which will be resolved pursuant to the procedures set forth in the TMA.

For further details, refer to Note 10 and Note 15 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, as well as our Consolidated Financial Statements in the 2025 Form 10-K.

Impact of Global Macroeconomic Conditions on Our Company

Global macroeconomic conditions have impacted, and continue to impact, aspects of the Company's operations and overall financial performance during the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025. These macroeconomic conditions include, among others, geopolitical conflicts, inflationary pressures, high interest rates, tighter credit conditions and changes in global trade policies including higher tariffs in the U.S. and other countries. These macroeconomic trends could continue to impact our business, including impacts to overall financial performance during the remainder of 2026, as a result of the following, among other things:

- Higher costs of products and services due to tariffs;
- Customer demand impacting our new equipment, maintenance and repair, and modernization businesses;
- Customer liquidity constraints and related credit reserve;
- Cancellations or delays of customer orders; and
- Supplier liquidity, as well as supplier and raw material capacity constraints, delays and related costs.

We currently do not expect any significant impact to our capital and financial resources from these macroeconomic conditions, including to our overall liquidity position based on our available cash and cash equivalents and our access to credit facilities and the capital markets.

See the "Liquidity and Financial Condition" section in this Form 10-Q for further detail and Item 1A. "Risk Factors" in our 2025 Form 10-K for macroeconomic risks related to our business.

Risks Associated with Ongoing Conflicts

The ongoing conflicts in the Middle East, as well as between Russia and Ukraine have resulted in worldwide geopolitical and macroeconomic uncertainty, including volatile commodity markets, foreign exchange fluctuations, supply chain disruptions, increased risk of cybersecurity incidents, reputational risk, increased operating costs (including fuel and other input costs), environmental, health and safety risks related to securing and maintaining facilities, additional sanctions and other regulations (including restrictions on the transfer of funds to and from Russia). We do not have operations in Russia or Iran. Additionally, we do not have operations or material net sales in Israel, Gaza or Lebanon.

Although we have operations in the Middle East and transport products through the Middle East, we currently do not expect the recent conflicts in that region to have a material impact on our business.

To the extent possible, we continue to operate our business in Ukraine. We do not have material net sales or operating profit in Ukraine.

We cannot predict how the events described above will evolve. Depending on the ultimate outcomes of these conflicts, which remain uncertain, they could heighten certain risks disclosed in Item 1A. "Risk Factors" in our 2025 Form 10-K, including, but not limited to, adverse effects on macroeconomic conditions, including increased inflation, constraints on the availability of commodities, supply chain disruption and decreased business spending; cyber-incidents; disruptions to our or our business partners' global technology infrastructure, including through cyber-attack or cyber-intrusion; adverse changes in international trade policies and relations; claims, litigation and regulatory enforcement; our ability to implement and execute our business strategy; terrorist activities; our exposure to foreign currency fluctuations; reputational risk; and constraints, volatility, or disruption in the capital markets, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Preparation of our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. The accounting policies that involve the most significant estimates, assumptions and management judgments used in preparation of the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, or are the most sensitive to change due to outside factors, are discussed in the section entitled "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Critical Accounting Estimates" included in our 2025 Form 10-K. Except as disclosed in Note 17 to our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in this Form 10-Q, pertaining to adoption of new accounting pronouncements, there have been no material changes in these policies.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Net Sales

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Net sales	$ 3,914	$ 3,690	$ 11,339	$ 10,635
Percentage change year-over-year	6 %		7 %

The factors contributing to the total percentage change year-over-year in total Net sales for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026 are as follows:

Components of Net sales change:	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026
Organic volume	6 %	4 %
Foreign currency translation	— %	2 %
Acquisitions and divestitures, net and other	— %	1 %
Total % change	6 %	7 %

The Organic volume increase of 6% for the quarter ended September 30, 2026 was driven by an increase of 7% in Service and 3% in New Equipment. The Organic volume increase of 4% for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 was driven by an increase of 7% in Service, partially offset by a decrease of (1)% in New Equipment.

See the "Segment Review" section for a discussion of Net sales by segment.

Cost of Products and Services Sold

(dollars in millions)	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026	Quarter Ended September 30, 2025	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2025
Total cost of products and services sold	$ 2,759	$ 2,557	$ 7,966	$ 7,412
Percentage change year-over-year	8 %		7 %

The factors contributing to the percentage change year-over-year for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026 in total cost of products and services sold are as follows:

Components of Cost of Products and Services Sold change:	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026
Organic volume	8 %	6 %
Foreign currency translation	— %	2 %
Acquisitions and divestitures, net and other	— %	(1)%
Total % change	8 %	7 %

The Organic volume for total cost of products and services sold increased 8% and 6% for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, primarily driven by the organic sales changes noted above and the impacts of higher labor costs including the impact of ongoing costs to support operational execution and productivity, and higher material costs, including commodity costs.

Gross Margin

(dollars in millions)	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026	Quarter Ended September 30, 2025	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2025
Gross margin	$ 1,155	$ 1,133	$ 3,373	$ 3,223
Gross margin percentage	29.5 %	30.7 %	29.7 %	30.3 %

Gross margin percentage decreased (120) basis points and (60) basis points for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, when compared to the same periods in 2025, due to the cost increases described above, partially offset by the benefit from Service sales growing faster than New Equipment sales.

See the "Segment Review" section below for discussion of operating results by segment.

Research and Development

(dollars in millions)	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026	Quarter Ended September 30, 2025	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2025
Research and development	$ 40	$ 36	$ 117	$ 111
Percentage of Net sales	1.0 %	1.0 %	1.0 %	1.0 %

Research and development was relatively flat for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, when compared to the same periods in 2025.

Selling, General and Administrative

(dollars in millions)	Quarter Ended September 30, 2026	Quarter Ended September 30, 2025	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2025
Selling, general and administrative	$ 489	$ 504	$ 1,519	$ 1,467
Percentage of Net sales	12.5 %	13.7 %	13.4 %	13.8 %

Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $(15) million for the quarter ended September 30, 2026, when compared to the same period in 2025, driven by lower restructuring costs, savings resulting from restructuring actions and lower other employment related costs, partially offset by higher labor costs including the impact of ongoing costs to support operational execution and higher costs resulting from organizational initiatives.

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased $52 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, when compared to the same period in 2025, driven by higher labor costs including the impact of ongoing costs to support operational execution, higher costs resulting from organizational initiatives, higher credit loss reserves and the impacts from foreign exchange, partially offset by lower restructuring costs, savings resulting from restructuring actions and lower other employment related costs.

Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of Net sales decreased (120) basis points and (40) basis points for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, when compared to the same periods in 2025.

Restructuring Costs

	Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025
UpLift restructuring	$ —	$ 72
Other restructuring	23	41
Total restructuring costs	$ 23	$ 113

We initiate restructuring actions to keep our cost structure competitive. Charges generally arise from severance related to workforce reductions and, to a lesser degree, facility exit and lease termination costs associated with the consolidation of office and manufacturing operations. We continue to closely monitor the economic environment and may undertake further restructuring actions to keep our cost structure aligned with the demands of the prevailing market conditions.

Other restructuring costs were $23 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and included $19 million of costs related to 2026 actions and $4 million of costs related to 2025 actions.

In addition to UpLift restructuring costs, UpLift transformation costs were $51 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2025, which were primarily for consultants, third-party service providers and personnel focused on designing and implementing a centralized service delivery model that supports our new organizational structure, including the standardization of our supply chain and digital technology procurement. These UpLift transformation costs are recorded in Other income (expense), net in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Most of the expected charges will require cash payments, which we have funded and expect to continue to fund with cash generated from operations. The table below presents approximate cash outflows related to the restructuring actions during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, and the expected cash payments to complete the actions announced:

(dollars in millions)	UpLift Actions	Other Actions	Total Restructuring
Cash outflows during the nine months ended September 30, 2026	$ 17	$ 24	$ 41
Expected cash payments remaining to complete actions announced	41	40	81

The approved UpLift restructuring actions generated approximately $103 million in annual recurring savings at the end of 2025, primarily in Selling, general and administrative expenses, and of which approximately $77 million was realized during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, including $14 million of incremental savings compared to the same period in 2025.

For other restructuring actions, we generally expect to achieve annual recurring savings within the two-year period subsequent to initiating the actions, including $21 million for the 2026 actions and $40 million for the 2025 actions, of which approximately 25% relates to Cost of products and services sold and 75% relates to Selling, general and administrative expenses. Approximately $36 million of savings was realized for the 2026 and 2025 actions during the nine months ended September 30, 2026.

Reorganization of Operations in China

In January 2025, we announced the reorganization of our operations in China. Among other aspects, this reorganization resulted in restructuring actions of approximately $30 million. These actions primarily included severance-related costs, and these actions were substantially completed as of December 31, 2025. Amounts related to the reorganization of operations in China are included within Other restructuring.

For additional discussion of restructuring, see Note 11 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Income (Expense), Net

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Other income (expense), net	$ (6)	$ (7)	$ (3)	$ (101)

The change in Other income (expense), net of $1 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2026 compared to the same period in 2025, was partially driven by the unfavorable impacts of foreign currency mark-to-market adjustments and other adjustments. The change was also impacted by the absence of prior period items including $10 million of UpLift transformation costs and $4 million of Separation-related adjustments.

The change in Other income (expense), net of $98 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to the same period in 2025, was partially driven by lower Separation-related adjustments of $60 million, partially offset by the unfavorable impacts of foreign currency mark-to-market adjustments and other adjustments. The change was also impacted by the absence of prior period items including; $51 million of UpLift transformation costs, $21 million of non-recurring litigation-related settlement costs, $10 million of impairment loss related to net assets held for sale, and gains on the sale of fixed assets of $15 million.

For additional discussion of the Separation-related adjustments, litigation-related settlement costs and held for sale impairment, see Note 16 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. For additional discussion of the restructuring and UpLift transformation costs, see Note 11 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Interest Expense (Income), Net

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Interest expense (income), net	$ 68	$ 61	$ 153	$ 132

The changes in Interest expense (income), net were $7 million and $21 million for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, compared to the same periods in 2025, primarily driven by higher interest expense related to the $700 million unsecured, unsubordinated debt issued in May 2026 and the $500 million unsecured, unsubordinated debt issued in September 2025, partially offset by lower interest expense related to the repayment of the $1.3 billion unsecured, unsubordinated debt in April 2025. The nine months ended September 30, 2026 also benefited from higher interest income.

The average interest rate on our long-term debt for the quarters ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 was 3.1% and 2.9%, respectively. For additional discussion of borrowings, see Note 6 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Effective tax rate	22.8 %	24.8 %	22.2 %	23.9 %

The decrease in the effective tax rate for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to the same periods in 2025, is primarily due to a reduction in the current tax liability as a result of filing Non-US income tax returns. In addition, the decrease in the effective tax rate for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, is due to the reduction in a deferred tax liability related to the mitigation of future repatriation costs and the absence of the impact of the increase in our estimated nondeductible TMA indemnity obligation payable to RTX.

We anticipate some variability in the tax rate quarter to quarter from potential discrete items.

For additional discussion of income taxes and the effective income tax rate, see Note 10 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Noncontrolling Interest in Subsidiaries' Earnings and Net Income Attributable to Otis Worldwide Corporation

	Quarter Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Noncontrolling interest in subsidiaries' earnings	$ 12	$ 18	$ 46	$ 61
Net income attributable to Otis Worldwide Corporation	$ 414	$ 374	$ 1,182	$ 1,010

Noncontrolling interest in subsidiaries' earnings decreased for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to the same periods in 2025, primarily due to lower net income from non-wholly owned subsidiaries. Other than our acquisition of the noncontrolling shares of Otis Electric Elevator Company Limited during the fourth quarter of 2025 and the acquisition of majority ownership of a French company in April 2026, ownership interest in the underlying non-wholly owned subsidiaries has remained generally consistent year-over-year.

For additional discussion of the acquisition of majority ownership of the French company, see Note 5 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Net income attributable to Otis Worldwide Corporation increased for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to the same periods in 2025, due to higher operating profit (including the impact of foreign exchange rates), a lower effective tax rate and lower noncontrolling interest in subsidiaries' earnings, partially offset by higher interest expense.

New Equipment

The New Equipment segment designs, manufactures, sells and installs a wide range of passenger and freight elevators, as well as escalators and moving walkways in residential and commercial buildings and infrastructure projects. Our New Equipment customers include real-estate and building developers and general contractors who develop and/or design buildings for residential, infrastructure, commercial, retail or mixed-use activity. We sell directly to customers as well as through agents and distributors. We also sell New Equipment to government agencies to support infrastructure projects, such as airports, railways or metros.

Summary performance for New Equipment for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 was as follows:

	Quarter Ended September 30,				Nine Months Ended September 30,

Quarter Ended September 30, 2026

Net sales

The organic sales increase of 3% was primarily driven by low teens growth in Americas, high single-digit growth in Asia Pacific and mid single-digit growth in EMEA, partially offset by a greater than (20)% decline in China.

Operating profit

New Equipment operating profit decreased $(17) million. The impacts of unfavorable price, regional and product mix and higher costs resulting from organizational initiatives were partially offset by productivity and higher volumes. Operating margin decreased (150) basis points.

Nine Months Ended September 30, 2026

Net sales

The organic sales decrease of (1)% was primarily driven by a greater than (20)% decline in China, partially offset by high single-digit growth in Americas and low single-digit growth in EMEA and Asia Pacific.

Operating profit

New Equipment operating profit decreased $(73) million. The impacts of lower volume, unfavorable price, regional and product mix and higher costs resulting from organizational initiatives were partially offset by productivity. Operating margin decreased (200) basis points.

Service

The Service segment performs maintenance and repair services for both our products, and those of other manufacturers, and provides modernization services to upgrade elevators and escalators. Maintenance services include inspections to ensure code compliance, preventive maintenance offerings and other customized maintenance offerings tailored to meet customer needs, as well as repair services that address equipment and component wear and tear, and breakdowns. Modernization services enhance equipment operation and improve building functionality. Modernization offerings can range from relatively simple upgrades of interior finishes and aesthetics, to complex upgrades of larger components and sub-systems, including the machine, ropes or belts, safety systems and the entire car or escalator. Our typical Service customers include building owners, facility managers, housing associations and government agencies that operate buildings where elevators and escalators are installed.

Summary performance for Service for the quarters and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 was as follows:

General corporate expenses and other increased $1 million and $20 million for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, compared to the same periods in 2025, driven by the unfavorable impacts of foreign currency mark-to-market adjustments and other adjustments. The nine months ended September 30, 2026 was also impacted by the absence of gains on the sale of fixed assets in the prior period.

For additional discussion of the Separation-related adjustments, litigation-related settlement costs and held for sale impairment, see Note 16 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. For additional discussion of the restructuring and UpLift transformation costs, see Note 11 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

LIQUIDITY AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

We expect to fund our ongoing operating, investing and financing requirements mainly through cash flows from operations, available liquidity through cash on hand, available bank lines of credit and access to capital markets.

As of September 30, 2026, we had cash and cash equivalents of $866 million, of which approximately 86% was held by the Company's foreign subsidiaries. We manage our worldwide cash requirements by reviewing available funds among the many subsidiaries through which we conduct our business and the cost-effectiveness with which those funds can be accessed. On occasion, we are required to maintain cash deposits with certain banks with respect to contractual obligations related to acquisitions and divestitures or other legal obligations. As of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the amount of such restricted cash was $12 million and $9 million, respectively.

From time-to-time we may need to access the capital markets to obtain financing. We may incur indebtedness or issue equity as needed. Although we believe that the arrangements in place as of September 30, 2026 permit us to finance our operations on acceptable terms and conditions, our access to, and the availability of, financing on acceptable terms and conditions in the future could be impacted by many factors, including (1) our credit ratings or absence of a credit rating, (2) the liquidity of the overall capital markets and (3) the current state of the economy, including tighter credit conditions. There can be no assurance that we will continue to have access to the capital markets on terms acceptable to us.

The following table contains several key measures of our financial condition and liquidity:

(dollars in millions)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 866	$ 1,096
Total debt	8,275	7,956
Net debt (total debt less cash and cash equivalents)	7,409	6,860
Total equity	(5,264)	(5,346)
Total capitalization (total debt plus total equity)	3,011	2,610
Net capitalization (total debt plus total equity less cash and cash equivalents)	2,145	1,514
Total debt to total capitalization	275 %	305 %
Net debt to net capitalization	345 %	453 %

The Company does not intend to reinvest certain undistributed earnings of our international subsidiaries that have been previously taxed in the U.S. For the remainder of the Company’s undistributed international earnings, unless tax effective to repatriate, we will continue to permanently reinvest these earnings.

Borrowings and Lines of Credit

As of September 30, 2026, we had a revolving credit agreement with various banks providing for a $1.5 billion unsecured, unsubordinated five-year revolving credit facility. As of September 30, 2026, there were no borrowings under the revolving credit agreement. The undrawn portion of the revolving credit agreement serves as a backstop for the issuance of commercial paper.

As of September 30, 2026, there were no borrowings outstanding under our $1.5 billion commercial paper programs. For additional discussion of borrowings, see Note 6 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

On March 16, 2026, we repaid the Japanese Yen denominated 0.370% notes due in 2026, upon maturity, using cash on hand.

On May 7, 2026, we issued $700 million unsecured, unsubordinated three-year notes due May 7, 2029 with an interest rate of 4.488%. A majority of the proceeds will be used to fund the repayment at maturity of the Euro denominated 0.318% notes due December 15, 2026. The remainder of the proceeds were used to fund the repayment of certain of our commercial paper borrowings and for other general corporate purposes.

Share Repurchase Program

On January 16, 2025, our Board of Directors approved a share repurchase program for up to $2.0 billion of Common Stock, of which approximately $500 million was remaining as of September 30, 2026.

Under this program, shares may be purchased on the open market, in privately negotiated transactions, under accelerated share repurchase programs or under plans complying with rules 10b5-1 and 10b-18 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Discussion of Cash Flows

The following table reflects the major categories of cash flows. For additional details, see the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

	Nine Months Ended September 30,
(dollars in millions)	2026	2025
Net cash flows provided by (used in):
Operating activities	$ 1,017	$ 779
Investing activities	(255)	(376)
Financing activities	(997)	(1,890)
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash and cash equivalents	8	19
Net increase (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash	$ (227)	$ (1,468)

Operating activities

Cash flows from operating activities primarily represent inflows and outflows associated with our operations. Primary activities include net income from operations adjusted for non-cash transactions, working capital changes and changes in other assets and liabilities.

The year-over-year increase in net cash provided by operating activities was primarily driven by higher net income and changes to working capital balances during the periods, including a larger inflow in Contract assets and liabilities, current, in the nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to the same period in 2025, due to the timing of billings on contracts compared to the progression on current contracts, as well as a smaller decrease in Accounts payable in the nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to the same period in 2025, due to the timing of payments to suppliers, partially offset by a larger increase in Accounts receivable, net, in the nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to the same period in 2025, due to timing of billings and collections and a decrease in Accrued liabilities in the nine months ended September 30, 2026 compared to an increase in the same period in 2025, due to the timing of payments compared to the related expenses for restructuring and taxes. Additionally, UpLift-related net payments were approximately $31 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $77 million in the same period in 2025 and Separation-related payments were approximately $63 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $92 million in the same period in 2025.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, net cash provided by operating activities was $1.0 billion. The primary drivers of the inflow related to $1.2 billion of net income, changes in Contract assets and liabilities, current, due to the timing of billings on contracts compared to the progression on current contracts, and a decrease in Other current assets due to refunds received in 2026 from the German tax litigation were partially offset by an increase in Accounts receivable, net, due to the timing of billings and collections and a decrease in Accrued liabilities due to Separation-related payments. For additional discussion of the German tax litigation, see Note 1 and Note 15 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2025, net cash provided by operating activities was $779 million. Net income of $1.1 billion includes $62 million of indemnification expense resulting from the German tax litigation and $10 million of impairment loss related to net assets held for sale, none of which resulted in cash flow activity during the nine months ended September 30, 2025. Net income and the decrease in Other current assets due to refunds received in 2025 from the German tax litigation were also partially offset by a decrease in Accounts payable due to timing of payments to suppliers and an increase in Accounts receivable, net, due to timing of billings and collections. For additional discussion of the German tax litigation, see Note 1 and Note 15 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Investing activities

Cash flows from investing activities primarily represent inflows and outflows associated with long-term assets, including capital expenditures, investments in businesses and securities, proceeds from the sale of fixed assets and the settlement of derivative contracts.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, net cash used in investing activities was $255 million. The primary drivers of the outflow related to $195 million of acquisitions of businesses and intangible assets and $116 million of capital expenditures, partially offset by $53 million of net cash receipts from the settlement of derivative instruments. For additional discussion of acquisitions of businesses and intangible assets, see Note 5 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2025, net cash used in investing activities was $376 million. The primary drivers of the outflow related to $211 million of net cash payments from the settlement of derivative instruments, $107 million of capital expenditures and $92 million of acquisitions of businesses and intangible assets. These were partially offset by $35 million of net proceeds from the sale of fixed assets.

As discussed in Note 12 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, we enter into derivative instruments for risk management purposes. We operate internationally and, in the normal course of business, are exposed to fluctuations in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and commodity prices. These fluctuations can increase the costs of financing, investing and operating the business. We use derivative instruments, including forward contracts and options to manage certain foreign currency and commodity price exposures.

Financing activities

Cash flows from financing activities primarily represent inflows and outflows associated with equity and borrowings. Primary activities include short-term and long-term borrowing activity, paying dividends to shareholders, the repurchase of our Common Stock and dividends or other payments to noncontrolling interests.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, net cash used in financing activities was $997 million. The primary drivers of the outflow were repurchases of our Common Stock of $807 million, dividends paid on our Common Stock and to noncontrolling shareholders of $498 million and $44 million, respectively, net repayments of short-term borrowings of $185 million and repayments of long-term debt of $135 million. These were partially offset by the proceeds from the long-term debt issuance of $700 million.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2025, net cash used in financing activities was $1.9 billion. The primary drivers of the outflow were repayments of long-term debt of $1.3 billion, repurchases of our Common Stock of $809 million and dividends paid on our Common Stock of $483 million. These were partially offset by the proceeds from the long-term debt issuance of $500 million and short-term borrowings of $280 million.

Guaranteed Securities: Summarized Financial Information

The following information is provided in compliance with Rule 13-01 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, with respect to the 2026 Euro Notes, the 2027 Euro Notes and the 2031 Euro Notes (together the "Euro Notes"), in each case issued by Highland Holdings S.à r.l. ("Highland"), a private limited liability company (société à responsabilité limitée) incorporated and existing under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg ("Luxembourg"). The Euro Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by Otis Worldwide Corporation ("OWC") on an unsecured, unsubordinated basis. Refer to "Note 8: Borrowings and Lines of Credit" in Item 8 in our 2025 Form 10-K, for additional information.

Highland is a wholly-owned, indirect consolidated subsidiary of OWC. OWC is incorporated under the laws of Delaware. As a company incorporated and existing under the laws of Luxembourg, and with its registered office in Luxembourg, Highland is subject to Luxembourg insolvency and bankruptcy laws in the event any insolvency proceedings are initiated against it. Luxembourg bankruptcy law is significantly different from, and may be less favorable to creditors than, the bankruptcy law in effect in the United States and may make it more difficult for creditors to recover the amount they could expect to recover in liquidation under U.S. insolvency and bankruptcy rules.

The Euro Notes are not guaranteed by any of OWC's or Highland's subsidiaries (all OWC subsidiaries other than Highland are referred to herein as "non-guarantor subsidiaries"). Holders of the Euro Notes will have a direct claim only against Highland, as issuer, and OWC, as guarantor.

The following tables set forth the summarized financial information as of and for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and as of December 31, 2025 of each of OWC and Highland on a standalone basis, which does not include the consolidated impact of the assets, liabilities, and financial results of their subsidiaries except as noted on the tables below, nor does it include any impact of intercompany eliminations as there were no intercompany transactions between OWC and Highland. This summarized financial information is not intended to present the financial position or results of operations of OWC or Highland in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements and Contractual Obligations

Item 7 "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in our 2025 Form 10-K discloses our off-balance sheet arrangements and contractual obligations. As of September 30, 2026, there have been no material changes to these off-balance sheet arrangements and contractual obligations, outside the ordinary course of business except for those disclosed in "Note 6, Borrowings and Lines of Credit" within Item 1 of this Form 10-Q.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

There have been no material changes to the Company's market risk during the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2026. For a discussion of the Company's exposure to market risk, refer to the Company's market risk disclosures set forth in Item 7A "Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk" in our 2025 Form 10-K.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

As required by Rule 13a-15 under the Exchange Act, we carried out an evaluation under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the President and Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), the Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") and the Senior Vice President and Chief Accounting Officer ("CAO"), of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2026. There are inherent limitations to the effectiveness of any system of disclosure controls and procedures, including the possibility of human error and the circumvention or overriding of the controls and procedures. Accordingly, even effective disclosure controls and procedures can only provide reasonable assurance of achieving their control objectives. Based upon our evaluation, our CEO, our CFO and our CAO have concluded that, as of September 30, 2026, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the applicable rules and forms, and that it is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our CEO, our CFO and our CAO, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

There have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended September 30, 2026, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Cautionary Note Concerning Factors That May Affect Future Results

This Form 10-Q contains statements which, to the extent they are not statements of historical or present fact, constitute "forward-looking statements" under the securities laws. From time to time, oral or written forward-looking statements may also be included in other information released to the public. These forward-looking statements are intended to provide management's current expectations or plans for Otis' future operating and financial performance, based on assumptions currently believed to be valid. Forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as "believe," "expect," "expectations," "plans," "strategy," "prospects," "estimate," "project," "target," "anticipate," "will," "should," "see," "guidance," "outlook," "medium-term," "near-term," "confident," "goals" and other words of similar meaning in connection with a discussion of future operating or financial performance. Forward-looking statements may include, among other things, statements relating to future sales, earnings, cash flow, results of operations, uses of cash, dividends, share repurchases, tax rates, R&D spend, restructuring or transformation actions (including UpLift and related reorganization and outsourcing activities), credit ratings, net indebtedness and other measures of financial performance or potential future plans, strategies or transactions, or statements that relate to climate change and our intent to achieve certain sustainability targets or other corporate responsibility initiatives, including operational impacts and costs associated therewith, and other statements that are not historical facts. All forward-looking statements involve risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements. For those statements, Otis claims the protection of the safe harbor for forward-looking statements contained in the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors include, without limitation:

- the effect of economic conditions in the industries and markets in which Otis and its businesses operate and any changes therein, including financial market conditions, fluctuations in commodity prices, and other inflationary pressures, interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates, levels of end market demand in construction, pandemic health issues, natural disasters, whether as a result of climate change or otherwise, and the financial condition of Otis' customers and suppliers;
- the effect of changes in political conditions in the U.S. and in other countries in which Otis and its businesses operate, including as a result of the U.S. midterm elections, tensions between the U.S. and China and geopolitical conflicts, including the ongoing conflicts and instability in the Middle East and the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, on general market conditions, commodity costs, global trade policies and related sanctions, export controls and tariffs, and currency exchange rates in the near term and beyond;
- challenges in the development, production, delivery, support, employee adoption, performance and realization of the anticipated benefits of advanced technologies and new products and services;
- future levels of indebtedness, capital spending and research and development spending;
- future availability of credit and factors that may affect such availability or costs thereof, including credit market conditions and Otis' capital structure;
- the timing and scope of future repurchases of Common Stock, which may be suspended at any time due to various factors, including market conditions and the level of other investing activities and uses of cash;
- fluctuations in prices and delays and disruptions in delivery of materials and services from suppliers, whether as a result of changes in general economic conditions, geopolitical conflicts or otherwise;
- cost reduction or containment actions, restructuring or transformation costs and related savings and other consequences thereof, including with respect to UpLift and related impacts of reorganization, change management and outsourcing activities, as applicable;
- new business and investment opportunities and the realization of anticipated benefits, including meeting customer expectations and maintaining our competitiveness;
- the outcome of legal proceedings, investigations and other contingencies;
- pension plan assumptions and future contributions;
- the impact of the negotiation of collective bargaining agreements and labor disputes, labor actions, including strikes or work stoppages, and labor inflation in the markets in which Otis and its businesses operate globally;
- the effect of changes in laws, regulations and enforcement priorities in the U.S., including as a result of the midterm elections, and other countries in which Otis and its businesses operate;
- the ability of Otis to retain and hire key personnel;
- the scope, nature, impact or timing of acquisition and divestiture activity, the integration of acquired businesses into existing businesses and realization of synergies and opportunities for growth and innovation and incurrence of related costs;
- the determination by the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") and other tax authorities that the distribution or certain related transactions in connection with the Separation should be treated as taxable transactions; and
- our obligations and disputes that have or may hereafter arise under the agreements we entered into with RTX and Carrier in connection with the Separation.

These and other factors are more fully discussed in the "Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements" under the headings "Note 1: General" and "Note 15: Contingent Liabilities" and in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in this Form 10-Q and in our 2025 Form 10-K under the headings "Item 1. Business," "Item 1A. Risk Factors," "Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and "Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" under the headings "Note 1: Business Overview" and "Note 20: Contingent Liabilities" and elsewhere in each of these filings. The forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this report or, in the case of any document incorporated by reference, the date of that document. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by applicable law. Additional information as to factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements is disclosed from time to time in our other filings with the SEC.

PART II – OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

For a discussion regarding material legal proceedings, see "Note 15: Contingent Liabilities" to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Except as otherwise noted above, there have been no material developments in legal proceedings. For previously reported information about legal proceedings refer to Item 3 "Legal Proceedings" in our Form 10-Qs for the quarters ended June 30, 2026 and March 31, 2026 and 2025 Form 10-K.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Additional information regarding risk factors can be found under "Recent Developments" in the "Business Overview" and "Cautionary Note Concerning Factors That May Affect Future Results" sections of Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in this Form 10-Q.

Except as otherwise noted above, there have been no material changes in the Company's risk factors from those disclosed in Item 1A "Risk Factors," in our 2025 Form 10-K.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

The following table provides information about our purchases during the quarter ended September 30, 2026 of equity securities that are registered by us pursuant to Section 12 of the Exchange Act.

2026	Total Number of Shares Purchased (thousands)	Average Price Paid per Share [1]	Total Number of Shares Purchased as Part of a Publicly Announced Program (thousands)	Approximate Dollar Value of Shares that May Yet Be Purchased Under the Program (dollars in millions)

August 1 - August 31	—	—	—	$ 500
September 1 - September 30	—	—	—	$ 500
Total	—	$ —	—

[1] Average price paid per share includes any broker commissions associated with the repurchases.

On January 16, 2025, our Board of Directors approved a share repurchase program for up to $2.0 billion of Common Stock. As of September 30, 2026, the maximum dollar value of shares that may yet be purchased under this current program was approximately $500 million.

Under this program, shares may be purchased on the open market, in privately negotiated transactions, under accelerated share repurchase programs or under plans complying with Rules 10b5-1 and 10b-18 under the Exchange Act.

Item 5. Other Information

Insider Adoption or Termination of Trading Arrangements

During the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2026, none of our directors or officers adopted or terminated a "Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement" or "non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement," as those terms are defined in Item 408 of Regulation S-K, except as set forth below.

On August 28, 2026, Ms. Marks, our Chair, President and Chief Executive Officer, adopted a trading plan intended to satisfy the affirmative defense conditions of Rule 10b5-1(c). The trading plan covers (i) the sale, based on our current projected performance against underlying financial goals, expected tax withholding and certain dividend and share price assumptions, of up to approximately 27,842 shares in connection with the vesting of performance stock units granted to Ms. Marks in February 2024, the actual amount of which may vary based on tax withholding and satisfaction of performance conditions; (ii) the sale, based on expected tax withholding and certain dividend and share price assumptions, of up to 28,276 shares in the aggregate in connection with the vesting of certain restricted stock units granted to Ms. Marks in each of February 2024, February 2025 and February 2026; and (iii) the exercise of up to 144,264 stock appreciation rights granted to Ms. Marks in 2021 and the sale of the underlying net shares, with the actual number of shares that may be sold depending on the Company’s stock price and applicable tax rates. The trading plan will terminate on August 15, 2027.

Disclosure Pursuant to Section 13(r) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

The following activities are disclosed pursuant to Section 13(r) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Otis S.C.S. (France) S.A.S. ("Otis France"), a non-U.S. subsidiary of Otis Worldwide Corporation organized under the laws of France, provided elevator maintenance and related services to the Paris branch of Banque Sepah, an Iranian bank located in Paris, France. Banque Sepah has been identified by the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") as an entity associated with the Government of Iran.

In 2017, Otis France entered into a maintenance contract counter-signed by an individual customer who at that time was not identified as being associated with Banque Sepah. In June 2026, Otis learned that the individual was obtaining commercial maintenance services on behalf of Banque Sepah under the contract. From the inception of the relationship through June 2026, Otis France received aggregate revenue of approximately $31,307.09 and realized aggregate net profit of approximately $15,653.54. Otis France did not receive any revenue or profit from the relationship in the period covered by this Form 10-Q. Otis has applied for an OFAC license to permit the orderly termination and wind-down of the service relationship, as well as an initial notice of voluntary self-disclosure. Otis does not intend to engage in any further activities with Banque Sepah and intends to terminate the relationship promptly upon authorization from OFAC.

CERTIFICATION

I, Judith F. Marks, certify that:

1. I have reviewed this quarterly report on Form 10-Q of Otis Worldwide Corporation;

2. Based on my knowledge, this report does not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which such statements were made, not misleading with respect to the period covered by this report;

3. Based on my knowledge, the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the registrant as of, and for, the periods presented in this report;

4. The registrant's other certifying officer(s) and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) for the registrant and have:

    a. Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the registrant, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;

    b. Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;

    c. Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and

    d. Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and

5. The registrant's other certifying officer(s) and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):

    a. All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and

    b. Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.
